Seen & Heard Around Murray

Bill Moffitt hands us the following. He picked it up somewhere and it was written by Frederick and Kena Stewards and is entitled "The Editor's Reception". Here it is.

"An editor knocked at the pearly gates.

His face was scarred and cold; He stood before the man of fate For admission to the fold.

"What have you done?" Saint Peter asked.

"To gain admission here,"

"I've been an editor, Sir," he said.

"For many and many a year".

The pearly gates swung open wide.

When Saint Peter touched the bell,

"Come in," he said, "and choose your harp,

You've had your share of Hell."

Now, we'll go along with that.

Want to a feast Saturday night where all the ladies brought dishes and we can tell you right now there are some good cooks in that bunch. There was some meat loaf that you could put in a slice of fresh bread and eat like a sandwich.

Then there were two or three rice dishes. One was little bits of beef and rice and another little bits of some other kind of meat with rice. It was down right pitiful the way we waded into those dishes.

We never got to the dessert because of the good tasting regular dishes.

If there is anything that stirs

a man's soul it is a well cooked main dish. Sunday night we had chicken baked in rice.

We don't know why a gloomy day affects us but it does. Conversely a sunny day does too.

Last Saturday morning we departed from our usual fare of one egg over medium with sausage and got two pancakes with sausage. This was an earth shaking decision for us.

Easter Egg Hunt For Underprivileged Is Set For Saturday

About 60 underprivileged Calloway County children from eight to 12 years of age will be treated to an Easter egg hunt next Saturday on the lawn of Oakhurst, the president's home at Murray State University.

To begin at 1:30 p.m., the hunt is sponsored by Sigma Nu social fraternity, Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority, the Murray State University community service, and the Murray Optimist Club.

Children who have been invited to participate are among those involved in several community service projects. Prizes will be given to the children who find the most eggs.

Six Murray State students costumed as Easter bunnies will be on hand early to hide 10 dozen eggs and to later live up the hunt.

The Murray State community service works with two state agencies — economic security and child welfare — to assist people in the community who are on welfare roles.

Among the active community service programs are tutoring, summer sports, big brother, big sister and adult entertainment.

Plans Completed For District 4 Masonic Meeting

Plans are complete for the annual meeting of District 4 of the Masonic Lodge of Kentucky. The meeting is set for Friday, March 27 at Calloway County High School on the College Farm Road.

Host lodge for the event will be Murray Lodge 105.

All Masons and their families are invited to attend the meeting which will include a dinner at 6:30 p.m. with entertainment to be provided. After the dinner a tyled meeting will be conducted with District Deputy Grand Master Dick Sykes presiding.

Principal speaker for the occasion will be Grand Master Carroll M. Curtis. Other Grand Lodge officers will attend the meeting also.

Dee Lamb is master of Murray Lodge 105, the host lodge. District Four is composed of the following lodges: Calloway County — Murray Lodge No. 105, Temple Hill Lodge No. 276, Hazel Lodge No. 831, Marshall County — Briensburg Lodge No. 401, Calvert City Lodge No. 543, T. L. Jefferson-Benton Lodge No. 622, Doric Lodge No. 737, Hardin-Berkley Lodge No. 567, and Alford Lodge No. 925.

As of this date, Democrat William Natcher of Bowling Green (2nd District), is unopposed, as are Democrats John Watts of Nicholasville (6th District) and Carl Perkins of Hindman (7th District).

On the Republican front, William Cowger of Louisville (3rd District), M. G. "Gene" Snyder of Jefferson County (4th District) and Tim Lee Carter of Tompkinsville (5th District) are unopposed.

The most interesting primary fights shape up in the Third and Fourth Districts.

In the Democratic Fourth District primary, the winner will have the somewhat dubious task of facing Snyder. He won overwhelmingly last time and is now being touted in some GOP circles as an anti-Nunn administration candidate for governor.

Four Democrats have filed for the right to oppose him. They are Jesse Cecil of Louisville, Wilton Cupp of Covington, James Rogers of Dayton and Charles Webster of Carrollton. Webster, a former Carrollton mayor, reportedly has the backing of party regulars and is given the inside track.

In Louisville's Third District, Democrat Tom Ray is ready to file. He lost to Cowger by nearly 11,000 votes in 1968. Ray is a state representative.

But the insider at this point is state Sen. Romano Mazzoli, who ran third in the race for the Democratic nomination for mayor of Louisville last spring. But Mazzoli impressed party regulars.

"I haven't absolutely made up my mind," Mazzoli said Monday. "I am going to have to check with a lot of people. Frankly if I can get the proper amount of support I will run."

Indications are he will and is expected to file soon.

Democratic state Reps. Peter Conn and Wilson Wyatt, Jr., are also possible candidates. But Conn is reportedly now out of the picture, while it is understood Wyatt is merely "toying" with the idea of running.

Watts handily beat a young GOP challenger last time, Russ Mobley of Lexington. The Republicans will apparently run another in the same mold, stock broker Larry Hopkins, also of Lexington, this time around.

The Democrats will apparently concede the Fifth District to Carter. Party chairman J. R. Miller of Owensboro said he has "no idea" who will run.

"They don't seem to have any interest in the thing," Miller said of local Democratic county chairmen in the mountainous Fifth District.

And the Republicans seem content at this stage to allow Stubblefield, Natcher and Perkins to go unopposed.

000, that the average per capita when started was $30.00 and it is now over $100.00.

Governor Signs Bill Raising Interest Ceiling On Home Loans To 8½ Per Cent

By GLEN CARPENTER

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI) — Gov. Louie B. Nunn has granted Kentucky's home building industry relief from the tight money market by signing into law

House Bill 622, which contains provisions for an 8½ per cent negotiable interest rate ceiling.

The bill contained an emergency clause, meaning it took effect the instant Nunn signed it at a special press conference Monday afternoon. The General Assembly had given in and passed the bill during its waning hours Friday after rejecting a Democratic sponsored plan for an 8 per cent limit through out the financial community.

The current legal rate will remain at 6 per cent, while the contractual rate will stay at 7 per cent for all other loans except the purchase, sale or improvement of single family unit dwellings.

"I have signed House Bill 622 because I believe it provides an equitable, balanced approach toward solving the housing problem in Kentucky," Nunn said. "Unlike Senate Bill 139, which I vetoed, this legislation does

Bob Lanier Is Top Choice In New Stadium NBA Draft; Picked By Pistons For Boston

By STU CAMEN
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Oh, to be young and a first-round selection in both the National and American Basketball Association college player drafts!

That quick road to fame and fortune (well, at least fortune) was happily contemplated today by such college stars as Bob Lanier of St. Bonaventure, Pete Maravich of Louisiana State, Rudy Tomjanovich of Michigan, Dave Cowens of Florida State and Sam Lacey of New Mexico State.

Despite moving up its draft by one week, the NBA was still faced with the two-month handicap as the younger ABA, grimly determined to force a merger with the NBA, got off to a head start by holding a secret draft in January.

Lanier, a 6-foot-11 All-American, had the honor of being the first player chosen in the NBA draft as he was selected by the Detroit Pistons who have reportedly offered the Buffalo, N.Y., native a five-year pact worth around $1.2 million. Bidding against the Pistons for Lanier's services are the New York Nets of the ABA.

Kentucky All-Stars Stop Vols

NASHVILLE (UPI)—All-America Dan Issel of Kentucky pumped in 29 points to lead his team to victory 133-105 in the fourth annual Kentucky-Tennessee All-Star clash Monday night.

Issel tossed in 14-25 from the field and sank 1-1 at the free throw line in the high scoring game.

A pair of Eastern Kentucky players, Toke Coleman and Willie Woods, followed Issel's lead with 21 and 20 points respectively. In all, six of the nine Blue Grass players were in double figures.

Issel's teammate at Kentucky, Mike Pratt, had 19 points for the night.

Issel was named the game's most valuable player.

East Tennessee's Mike Kretzer led the Tennessee squad with 23 points. Carson - Newman's Tommy Everett had 20.

Kentucky led at halftime 64-56 and then outscored Tennessee 16-2 in the third period to pull away.

The two teams will square off again next Monday night in Louisville, Ky.

made known his desire to play pro ball in the South and he very conveniently was chosen by the Atlanta Hawks who had the third pick thanks to an early season trade with San Francisco. The Hawks will have to outbid the Carolina Cougars of the ABA for Maravich, whose basketball talents are also felt to be good enough to command a $1 million-plus contract.

Tomjanovich, the second highest scorer in Michigan history, seems pretty well set with the San Diego Rockets who made him the second pick in the NBA draft while Cowens reportedly already has cast his lot with the older league by signing with the Boston Celtics for an estimated 1270,000.

Lacey, New Mexico State's 6-9 center, was picked on the first round by Cincinnati of the NBA AND New Orleans of the ABA.

Other first-round picks included: Jim Ard of Cincinnati by Seattle; John Johnson of Iowa by Cleveland; George Pettie of Princeton by Portland; George Johnson of Stephen F. Austin by Baltimore which got Buffalo's first pick in a trade for Mike Davis; Greg Howard of New Mexico by Phoenix; Jimmy Collins of New Mexico State by Chicago; Al Henry of Wisconsin by Philadelphia; Jim McMillan of Columbia by Los Angeles; John Valley of UCLA by Atlanta; John Hummer of Princeton by Buffalo; Gary Freeman of Oregon State by Milwaukee; and Mike Price of Illinois by New York.

The ABA, thanks to its two month head start, already has signed six of its first round choices: Rick Mount of Purdue by Indiana; Dan Issel of Kentucky by Kentucky; Mike Maloy of Davidson by Pittsburgh; Charlie Scott of North Carolina by Washington; Spencer Haywood, who was chosen by Denver last year while he still had college eligibility remaining at Detroit; and Bob Croft of Tennessee, who signed with the ABA, was chosen by Dallas, but will probably be assigned to Kentucky.

Calvin Murphy, the 5-10 All-American from Niagara, was selected on the second round in both drafts, by San Diego of the NBA and Pittsburgh of the ABA.

SEEDING FIRST

JOHANNESBURG (UPI)—Rod Laver and Margaret Court, the world's leading tennis players, are seeded first for the South African tennis championships starting Tuesday.

DAVIS PROMOTED

STARKVILLE, Miss. (UPI)—Kermit Davis, a 34-year-old assistant coach, has been elevated to the post of head basketball coach at Mississippi State University. Davis, an assistant for four years, succeeds Joe Dan Gold, who resigned March 9 after five seasons.

SELL DRAFT RIGHTS

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Indiana Pacers have sold their draft rights on Santa Clara's Dennis Awtrey to the Los Angeles Kings. Awtrey was picked in the second round of the American Basketball Association draft.

New Stadium Voted Out

BOSTON (UPI)—Welcome home Bill Sullivan. But you don't have a home anymore.

Sullivan, president of the Boston Patriots, arrived home from the National Football League meeting in Hawaii Monday afternoon "hopeful and praying that we'd get the right word."

A few hours later the Boston City Council killed legislation authorizing the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) to build a 55,000-seat stadium in the Neponset section which would have given the Patriots a home.

The legislation, endorsed by Gov. Francis W. Sargent and Mayor Kevin H. White, was killed on a 7-2 vote with only Councilors John E. Kerrigan and Frederick C. Langone in approval after six hours of tedious debate.

The Pats are under an NFL edict to move to a stadium seating 50,000. At the Hawaii meeting the club was granted "several weeks" to find a New England location or move elsewhere.

"They didn't give us a definite time limit, but the limit is there nonetheless," Sullivan said.

Sullivan said the next step would be to call a meeting of the club's 15-member board of directors, "probably this week," to discuss the alternatives.

Several alternate sites in New England have been suggested for the stadium, and numerous ones have been offered outside the area.

January Beats Douglass In Playoff Mon.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Don January insists "I'm not that much of a ham," but he waited until television time to turn on his afterburner.

January beat Dale Douglass by three strokes Monday in the Greater Jacksonville Open's 18-hole playoff but they were all even going into the final three holes and in range of national television.

At that point, the 40-year-old Texan rammed home a 35-foot birdie putt to move in front and then added a couple more birdies for good measure.

January, who won the 1967 PGA championship in a similar playoff with Don Massingale and then won the 1968 Tournament of Champions for his last victory prior to Monday, and the 34-year-old Douglass, seeking his fourth victory in 11 months, finished regulation play Sunday tied at 9-under-par 279.

That gave the co-leaders a two-stroke lead over third-place Tony Jacklin of England in the $100,000 Open. Dave Stockton had finished fourth at 282, Jack Nicklaus and Dan Sikes tied for fifth at 283 and Lee Trevino had 284.

January's victory was worth $20,000 and a blue coat. Douglass, who has now lost the only two playoffs he's been in, got a pretty good consolation prize of $11,400 and both got $5,000 in television money plus a fourth of Monday's gate receipts.

Gale Gentry Pulls Muscle In Mets-Cardinal Game Monday

By GREGG GALLO
UPI Sports Writer

With opening day just two weeks away, the world champion New York Mets regained the services of their best hitter and lost their No. 3 pitcher for an indefinite period Monday as the team split a doubleheader.

The Mets, who open the season in Pittsburgh April 7, defeated the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Petersburg, 4-3, as Cleon Jones returned to the starting lineup for the first time in 12 days and belted a three-run inside-the-park homer. Meanwhile, at Clearwater, the Mets' "B" team lost to the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-3, as Gary Gentry was forced from the game in the second inning when he pulled a calf muscle in his left leg.

Gentry was pitching to Sam Parilla, a Philadelphia rookie, when he injured himself. It was not known when he might be expected back.

Belts Third Home

John Mayberry, a rookie first baseman, belted his third home run of the spring to give the Houston Astros a 3-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Willie Stargell led a five-homer barrage with a two-run blast in the first inning and then drove home another run in the fifth with an infield grounder to spark the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 15-7 romp over the Kansas City Royals.

Darrel Chaney led a 10-hit

Cincinnati attack with a double and a single as the Reds defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers, 7-3.

The Padres scored four times in the seventh inning while the Oakland Athletics were committing numerous miscues. San Diego went on to down the Athletics, 8-3.

Frank Baker's three-run homer in the sixth gave the New York Yankees a 5-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Pilots Defeat Angels

Greg Goosen's two-run single highlighted a four-run eighth inning as the Seattle Pilots defeated the California Angels, 5-3.

Fastballer Sam McDowell struck out seven men in seven innings and Larry Brown drove in all three runs as the Cleveland Indians edged the Chicago Cubs, 3-2.

Reliever Ron Perranoski got out of a bases-loaded jam in the ninth inning to preserve the Minnesota Twins' 4-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Casey Cox, Dick Such and Darol Knowles combined for a five-hit shutout as the Washington Senators blanked the Baltimore Orioles, 2-0. Zolo Versalles and Frank Howard drove in the only runs of the game.

Phil Niekro, Atlanta's 23-game winner last season, had another bad session, giving up seven runs to Montreal as the Expos scrambled to a 10-7 victory.

John Wooden Named Coach Of The Year

WASHINGTON (UPI)—John Wooden, builder of championship teams at UCLA, today was named college Basketball Coach of the Year by the U.S. Basketball Writers Association.

Selection of Wooden, who guided UCLA to an unprecedented fourth straight NCAA championship this season, was announced by Smith Barrier, Greenville, N. C., president of the writers association.

The writers also voted Pete Maravich of Louisiana State as Player of the Year and recipient of the first Henry P. Iba Award. The Player of the Year Award is named in honor of the veteran Oklahoma State University and U.S. Olympic coach who retired after 51 years of college coaching.

Wooden guided the Bruins to an overall 28-2 record and the national title.

Harrelson's Broken Ankle Clouds Picture For Indians

By JOE SARGIS
UPI Sports Writer

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—Up until a few days ago Alvin Dark was enjoying himself as boss of the Cleveland Indians.

Ken "Hawk" Harrelson, who boomed 30 homers and drove in 92 runs last year, broke a bone above his right ankle sliding into second base and with him on the shelf, the Indians lost their big hope of climbing out of the American League's Eastern Division cellar.

Harrelson had been playing first base this spring in place of the still unsigned Tony Horton. Assuming Horton eventually would sign, Dark was figuring on Harrelson for left field.

"Now, I guess," Dark said, "We'll have to keep Frank Baker in left." Baker, who played briefly last year, was ticketed for the minors.

"I don't know what I'll do about first," Dark said.

Makes Wholesale Changes

To give an idea of the wholesale changes Dark has made from a year ago, only catcher Duke Sims and second baseman Vern Fuller of the current team opened the 1969 season.

Assuming Horton signs and Dark is unable to make a deal somewhere, he'll open the season with Horton at first, Fuller at second, Eddie Leon at short, Graig Nettles at third, Ted Uhlaender in center, Vada Pinson in right and either Baker or Max Alvis in left.

Sims, with 18 homers and 45 runs batted in, will do most of the catching. Of the other candidates Ray Fosse and Ken Suarez have the best chance of sticking.

The pitching has been giving Dark a lot of sleepless nights. In any event, the pitching shapes up this way at the moment:

Two Certain Starters

Sam McDowell (18-14 last year) and Dean Chance, who came over from the Twins where he was 5-4, are certain starters. The third, fourth and fifth starters will be picked from among Dick Ellsworth (6-9), young Phil Hennigan (10-10 at Waterbury and 2-1 with Cleveland), Barry Moore (9-8 at Washington), Mike Paul (5-10) and Larry Staab (13-11 at Spokane).

Dennis Higgins (10-9 at Washington) and Bob Miller (5-5 at Minnesota) have two of the bullpen jobs locked up and if Staab makes it as a starter they will be joined by Paul.

If it turns out that the Indians play on a par with the Tigers, Yankees and Senators, then the 1970 club obviously will be better than last year's team. That's all Dark is looking for, but oh how it hurts to lose the Hawk.

Sports Parade

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

ST. PETERSBURGH, Fla. (UPI)—Dave McNally, Baltimore's 20-game winner, took his time signing with the Orioles this spring and then found a little something waiting for him when he finally reported.

Hanging from his locker was a dirty, busted-up, what-used-to-be baseball with the stitching ripped and all the yard coming out. A home-made sign, saying "Congratulations to Al Weis," was taped up alongside the ball by the same practical joker who conceived the idea in the first place.

"I didn't do it," Al Weis, the New York Mets' celebrated supersub confessed when told about the gag perpetrated on McNally. "I'm not that kind of guy."

Weis Tells The Truth

Al Weis was telling the truth. He didn't put the beat-up ball in McNally's locker. McNally's buddy, Pete Richert did, and like Al Weis said, he's not that kind of guy. He's not a kiddier, and would never rub anything in.

All last year Weis hit only two homers and batted a modest .215 while filling in at third base, shortstop and second base in 103 games for the Mets. Both homers came against the Cubs in Chicago on successive days and led the Mets to victory each time.

Came the World Series and Weis, an ordinarily meek, soft-speaking 160-pounder began behaving like Jack the Ripper against the Orioles. He drove in the Mets' only run of the first game off Mike Cuellar and singled home the winning run in the second one at the expense of McNally. Again with McNally pitching in the fifth game, Weis homered in the seventh to tie the game and the Mets added two more in the eighth to wrap up the whole thing.

Takes Up Where He Left Off

Taking right up where he left off last October when he led all hitters in the World Series with a .455 average, Weis clipped relief act Tug McGraw for a triple in his very first time up this spring during an intrasquad game. He also singled later on.

At the moment Weis is nursing a hair-line fracture in the middle finger of his throwing hand, but the injury should be entirely healed before his 32nd birthday, April 2nd, and he's telling everyone beforehand he doesn't expect to top last year's home run total this year.

"A lot of guys had great seasons for us last year," says Art Shamsky, who didn't have such a bad one himself, "but the one who usually picked us up when we needed it most was Al Weis. Look it up and you'll find out it's true."

Gil Hodges says you don't have to bother looking it up, it's true.

Grave visiting 'tears him apart'

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have two sisters and one brother and we have always been a very close family. We're all married and have families of our own. Mother died nine years ago and Dad died one year later. We all contribute equally to the upkeep of their graves, but Abby, I have not been back to visit their graves since Dad died. I have started out many times, but it just tears me apart, and I turn back.

My sisters and brother go often. They say it makes them feel "good." Maybe I'm an odd ball, but I get so depressed when I head out to the cemetery it takes me days to get over it. Is something wrong with me? I was a good son to them, so it's not that I feel guilty. Should I force myself to visit the folks so my sisters and brother won't think I'm disrespectful to their memory? ODD BALL.

DEAR ODD: The time to go "visit the folks" is when they're living. If it "tears you apart" to go to the cemetery, stay away, and don't feel guilty.

DEAR ABBY: I can't understand why so many people can be so ignorant about obesity. People get fat from eating out of frustration and boredom. It's a difficult habit to break—like smoking or excessive drinking.

Just as all men are not happy pursuing the same career, all women are not happy being housewives.

I happen to believe that my small children need me at home, so if I get fat from eating, isn't that better than living on tranquilizers, becoming an alcoholic, or screaming at everyone just because I feel bored and frustrated? Sign me "FAT" (But it's nobody's business but my own!)

DEAR FAT: Don't rationalize. Your health is your FAMILY'S business. "Fat" reduces one's energy, vitality, and efficiency. You're right, getting fat is preferable to living on tranquilizers, or becoming an alcoholic. But must you make a choice? You will like yourself more, enjoy better health, and live longer if you deal with your boredom and frustrations in still a more sensible way. See your doctor. He has good news for you. And good luck.

DEAR ABBY: For years I've been reading letters in your column about women who get their hair fixed to look good for other women and who could care less how their husbands see them. Also about women who go around with rollers, and let the grocer and their neighbors see them, and even go to school that way. And they don't care as long as they look pretty when their husbands come home.

Today I had a permanent and I paid a lot of money for it. I asked myself, "Did I do it for my husband?" Not really. He loves me no matter how I look. "Did I do it for other women?" No. I know why I did it. Because I want to look nice at all times, for marketing, errands, and whenever I step outside the house and meet my neighbors.

I figure that my husband gave me his name, and wherever I go, I represent him. I always try to act like a lady. When I'm shopping I am patient and courteous and I am never rude to anyone.

I wish more wives realized that in a way they are a one-woman public relations firm for their husbands.

PALM SPRINGS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: So do I.

DEAR ABBY: Tell "LIKES PETS" to go ahead and get a green carpet if she wants one. Dogs and cats would never mistake a carpet for "grass" regardless of the color because animals go by "smell" and "feel." Besides, animals [with the exception of monkeys, apes, and baboons] are "color-blind!" They see only in shades of gray.

Play Presented By Austin Classes

The play, "Adventures in Negro History," was presented by the 5th, 6th, and Junior High Non-graded classes of Austin Elementary School, Murray. A performance was given to an elementary education social studies class at Murray State University, Thursday afternoon, March 19.

This play was a culmination of an extensive unit in Black history. Every child in the three classes has been involved in this play through writing reports, in music and art, or through participation in the characterization in the play. Famous Black Americans were personified by students, and biographical sketches of their lives were presented. Black civic leaders were invited to the classes to discuss contributions which have been made by Blacks in Murray as well as throughout the United States.

The play was under the direction of Mrs. Lochie Christopher, 6th grade teacher. Mrs. Margaret Franklin, 5th grade teacher, and Mrs. Betty Wagge, Junior High Non-graded teacher, assisted with the direction. Mrs. Polly Bryant, reading teacher, Mrs. Jean Geurin, art teacher, and Mrs. Margaret Porter, music teacher, worked with the classroom teachers as a team in order to make this unit and this study a success.

The services demand will tend to increase. Rising consumer income increases such demands three to four times as fast as the demand for basic farm foods. As a consequence, retail food prices move up. — Irma Hamilton, Courthouse, Mayfield, Ky. 42066. Telephone 247-2334.

Two words that are often confused are "Sanforized" and "Pre-shrunk." Sanforized means that it is guaranteed not to shrink more than 1%. Pre-shrunk means that some shrinkage has been removed, but it does not indicate how much more it is likely to shrink. — Maxine Griffin, Federal Building, Clinton, Ky. 42031. Phone 653-2231.

CONSUMER SERVICES are adding to the cost of food prices more than most would think. These services — preparing, packaging, maintaining quality, check-cashing, grocery loading into cars, etc. all add their bit to the food price. The "added services" cost in marketing has doubled since 1940. Many consumers are unwilling to pay for these extra. The prediction for the 1970's is that

Longer Hemlines Seem Determined To Come; Seems To Effect The Economy

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market is way down, skirt lengths are coming down, and thereby hangs a parallel that has haunted the national economy since statisticians and stylists began charting the similar courses of the economy and hemlines.

So, watch it. If the mid- or mid-calf catches on full force, the economy is in for a real slump. I am reluctant to bear such sad tidings, but there they are—observed since 1900 by Gossard, which makes foundation garments fulltime and business forecasts only once a year.

The longer hemlines seem determined to come, I've heard even the most conservative of dress manufacturers on Seventh Avenue say the below-knee skirts are on the way.

Add, too, the fact that the longer skirts are egged on by the likes of Madame Pompidou, wife of the French president, by Women's Wear Daily, the garment industry's trade publication, and even by Mrs. Richard Nixon, the First Lady—although she's lengthened only a few inches, says her Seventh Avenue designer-manufacturers.

Look then at what has happened to the Dow Jones industrial average, a key economic barometer, peaked at 988.85 in 1968, a year of boom for national income and the miniskirt, and now hovering around 776, when the "long-guette" (mid-calf) surrounds us.

Just why the state of the economy and skirt lengths seem to go in the same direction is beyond explanation. Gossard says it may be purely "cyclical accident" but adds that "fashion design always has been a sensitive indicator of the mood of the times."

Its researchers found that as the maxi coat and the calf-high midis began, "the national income showed more steam than financial strength."

"Although the national purse is expected to have a 1969 growth rate of better than 7 percent, its real advance will probably be only two per cent after inflationary discounts. While this is still a step ahead, moving us close to the $790 billion mark, it is the smallest increase of the decade."

One comforting thing to remember—even with temporary setbacks in the economy, the graphs show it has grown from approximately $20 billion income in 1900. Some estimates put 1970's total at close to $800 billion.

LOSES HOME

MOSCOW (UPI)—Mrs. Alexandra Mitrokhina went to visit her daughter for a few weeks. When she tried to come home, she couldn't—her house at 19 Krasno Slobotskaya St. in Moscow had disappeared.

A city housing construction enterprise spokesman said it was taken because builders needed a place to put earth they were excavating for a new apartment block next door.

Back to daughters for Mrs. Mitrokhina, Moskovskaya Pravda reported, with the promise of a new flat in the indeterminate future.

Do you want your clothing to meet the needs of the freedom and mobility of today's living? Choose a knit fabric and you will be able to make reasonably priced fashion garments that travel anywhere and require little care. The pattern companies are now designing patterns labeled "Knit Fabrics" or "Ideal for Knits." Look for these patterns for easier construction of your spring knit garments. — Catherine C. CONSUMER SERVICES are adding to the cost of food prices more than most would think. These services — preparing, packaging, maintaining quality, check-cashing, grocery loading into cars, etc. all add their bit to the food price.

The "added services" cost in marketing has doubled since 1940. Many consumers are unwilling to pay for these extra. The prediction for the 1970's is that

HOLES UP—LITERALLY

MOSCOW (UPI)—Genrykas Kayota, 45, answered his draft call 26 years late, Kayota, a Lithuanian, told police he literally holed up in a root cellar in his home when he received his conscription orders in 1944.

"I decided to come out in the middle of the 1950s but my mother made me change my mind," he said when he finally emerged recently. The Soviets granted amnesty to World War II draft dodgers some years ago, but Kayota, a local newspaper said, still will have to rehabilitate himself with society.

Kiwanians Hear Talk On Great Flood At Meet

John Mikulick spoke on "The Great Flood" at the Murray Kiwanis Club's regular meeting last week at the Woman's Clubhouse.

Mikulick presented geological archeological and historical evidences that a great flood occurred about 8,000 years ago. Among the evidence he cited was that the woolly mammoth disappeared from the North American continent about 8,000 years ago and that carbon 14 methods of dating the glacier in Greenland show that it is nearly all less than 8,000 years old.

At the board meeting following the dinner, a committee was instructed to order playground equipment for the city park. The doughnut sale was set for April 30 and May 7. President Tom Turner was approved as delegate to the International Convention in Detroit June 21-24. John Keene announced some of the plans for Earth Day to be held April 22. Visitors from the Circle K Club were Jim Green and Chuck Wright.

THREE CITED

Three persons were cited by the Murray Police Department yesterday and last night. They were one for driving while intoxicated, no city auto sticker, and driving on revoked license, one for speeding and reckless driving, and one for public drunkenness.

not impose inflationary and exorbitant interest rates, either on home loans or other contracts."

The measure will have an effective life through July 1, 1972. This will allow the 1972 General Assembly to take a look at the state's economy then and decide whether to let the rate revert automatically back to 7 per cent or make other adjustments.

Nunn said he sought the advice of some of the nation's top economic advisors before he decided to sign the bill into law.

Nunn had proposed the 8 1/2 per cent plan after the General Assembly, dominated by Democrats in both houses, indicated they would not try to override his veto of SB-139. Faced with either his plan or a veto of anything else passed, enough Democrats joined Republicans to pass HB 622.

The 8 1/2 per cent hike provision was tacked on as an amendment to the original bill, which brings Kentucky's truth-in-lending law in line with the federal act.

Nunn has until April 1 to sign, veto or let become law without his signature the multitude of bills and resolutions passed during the last 10 days of the session.

He said he has not decided on what action to take on the bills and is still seeking advice. But he indicated he will not take action of the overwhelming majority of them until the last day, April 1.

In particular, Nunn said no decision has been made on HB 66, estimated to save up to $6.8 million through increasing the minimum age for children entering the first grade. Funds expected to arise from the bill were appropriated by the legislature to additional special education classroom units.

Nunn said estimates of the money saved may be exaggerated, indicating he is taking a close look at this particular piece of legislation.

He also said he is scrutinizing the bill which would not make it a conflict of interest for teachers to serve in the legislature.

"I don't see anything wrong with teachers serving in the legislature," he said. But he pointed out there may be broader legal implications, such as if this would also give teachers the right to do business with the state in other areas.

"These are things I'll have to look at," he added.

telephones, bathroom facilities, and colored television sets. Kelley said the classes average ninety per cent in attendance and that 39 of the members now are charter members of the classes.

Kelley who is a native of Calhoun County spoke on some of the concerns of agriculture including hunger and malnutrition of the people of the country, the quality of life hurt by pollution of the air, and the loss of farmland due to highway and city construction.

The speaker said today the average farmer produces enough food for his family and 43 others, and that the agricultural industry employs more than the steel, auto, transportation, and utility industries.

He spoke of some of the projections made in a study for the next decade including that the size of farms will double along with the production, that dairy is likely to decline but the present dairy farm will get larger, that beef cattle is likely to become the greatest income product, that tobacco will be on the decrease until it is proven it is not hazardous to health, and that farms will operate on larger units as a family size unit, cooperative, or corporation.

Kelley who attended Lynn Grove High School Murray State College, and graduated from the University of Kentucky spoke on the program of vocational agriculture in Kentucky and some of the aims it is trying to advance in the state.

W. H. Brooks, teacher of the four adult classes, Young Adult, Lynn Grove, Kirksey, and New Concord, introduced the speaker in the absence of E. B. Howton who was unable to attend.

Brooks gave further figures on the class members saying that the corn yield in 1959 was 55 bushels per acre where as in 1969 with the bad corn crop year it was 89 bushels per acre, that tobacco was over one ton per acre in 1969, soybeans now at 38 bushels per acre, and the dairy industry now averages 10,500 pounds per cow.

The adult farmer teacher said the average gross sales of the members is now $30,348, per family and ranges from $4,000 to $104,000 per farm unit, and that the average capital operation was $152,270 in 1969 ranging from $25,000 to a half million.

Dan Shipley, Charles Outland, Billy Smith, and Walter Lee Stealy, members of the classes, were recognized as being named American farmers with the National Future Farmers of America.

Presiding at the meeting was Walter Lee Stealy, president of the Calloway County Council. Hamp W. Brooks gave the invocation and special organ music was presented by Mrs. W. H. Brooks.

The dinner was sponsored by the Hutson Chemical Company and the Ellis Popcorn Company who have been hosts for the banquet for the past ten years.

Special guests at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kelly Ellis, Mrs. Ann Kelly Dodson, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hutson, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hopkins, Supt. of County Schools William B. Miller and his wife, Calloway County High Principal Howard Crittenden and his wife, Jim West of Paducah, coordinator of vocational education, and his wife, Keys Keel, manager of the Jackson Purchase Production Credit Association, and his wife, Calloway school board members Lubie Parrish and Bill Stubblefield and their wives, and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Burke of the Ledger & Times.

About one hundred and sixty persons were present for the dinner.

Evidence Indicates Accident In Death Of Trigg Countian

The fatal shooting of a 12-year-old Trigg County Youth Sunday was apparently an accident, according to reports from investigating authorities in the incident.

The boy, David Lynne Broadbent, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Broadbent, was found dead about 11:15 p.m. Sunday after a search that began at 4 p.m. The body was found in a sink-hole about one-half mile from the family home in the Caledonia community and an autopsy on the body confirmed that the boy's death was caused by a shotgun blast, according to Trigg County Coroner John Vincent.

State Police detective Hugh Page said Monday that he took a statement from an 11-year-old boy and a 13-year-old girl who were companions of Broadbent but added that he did not want to reveal the contents of the statements or the identities of the youths until after a coroner's inquest expected later in the week.

"Right now, we can't say if any charges will or will not be made," Page said. "If any charges are placed, it will be after the inquest."

The investigation is being conducted by the State Police and Trigg County Sheriff James Mathis.

Sheriff Mathis has in his possession a single-shot, 12-gauge, shotgun which authorities believe fired the fatal shot.

The youth was a sixth grade student at Trigg County Elementary School.

Weather Favorable For Apollo Launch

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Environmental Science Services Administration says: weather conditions for next month's launch of the Apollo 13 moon flight should be "generally favorable."

Shultz, one of the principal architects of administration strategy during the postal crisis, said the situation this morning "seems to be a little better" as more strikers returned to work.

Nine hundred troops arrived in three New York post offices late Monday night and worked for three hours at mail sorting and orientation. The 17,000 reservists and National Guardsmen ordered out by the President were to report to post offices at 1 p.m. EST. Originally, they had been scheduled to report at 10 a.m.

Leads Workers Back

In Chicago, Henry S. Zych, president of the Letters Carriers Union branch, donned his uniform and accompanied a group of his 6,200 members to the Morgan Park Station at 5 a.m. Other workers were reporting throughout the city.

"I think things have been moving in the right direction," Shultz said, since Nixon's decision to use troops to sort mail in New York.

Shultz was interviewed on NBC-TV's Today Show. Shultz said the government could not allow itself to "be in a position of saying, 'Please stop breaking the law and if you'll stop breaking the law, we'll give you something.'"

Detroit postal workers appeared to be following the instructions of their union leaders, who told them Monday to "return to work as soon as possible." There was no picketing today, and a local post office spokesman said "it looks like people got to work."

Milwaukee Men Return

In Milwaukee, letter carriers began returning to work late Monday after voting 831 to 474 to end their walkout. Others reported this morning and Postmaster Stanley J. Cybulski said he expected the mail backlog to be cleaned up by late this afternoon.
